ABOUT THE CHAMBER

The Swansboro Area Chamber of Commerce/Visitor's Center is a not-for-profit 501 (c) (6) organization owned and operated by business leaders who care about the Swansboro area. The Chamber's mission is to promote business growth, to serve members with professional development opportunities and to affect public policy decisions to the benefit of the Swansboro area business community.

The Swansboro Area Chamber of Commerce is made up of approximately 275+ members, including large and small businesses, professionals, organizations, educational institutions and individuals. The Chamber is the Swansboro area's leading membership-driven business organization.

Located at the corner of Church and Water streets in historic, downtown Swansboro, the Chamber's office also serves as the Swansboro Welcome/Visitor's Center. With tourism a large part of the financial equation in the "Friendly City By the Sea," the Chamber works closely with the Swansboro Tourism Development Authority and Onslow County Tourism to promote the area's coastal communities.

The Swansboro Area Chamber of Commerce's Military Affairs Committee is also keenly aware of the tremendous impact the area military installations have on our community and works to insure that the business community supports these brave men and women.

VISITING THE AREA

Nestled along the confluent waters of the White Oak River and the Intracoastal Waterway, the Swansboro area is a beautiful and quaint waterfront community that offers visitors an unhurried journey through time. Stand on these ancient shores where Native American civilizations once thrived and prospered. Walk along paths where patriots and pirates alike laid down footprints. Run on the sands of one of the country's most beautiful natural seashores and leave your own footprints. But make way for the sea turtles! After all, they were here first, and have been nesting on the local beaches for centuries.

Experience the slower pace and aristocratic southern charm of early America while surrounded by one of the most active and beautiful outdoor playgrounds in the Southeast. The Swansboro area is a living part of America's history with quaint little boutiques, relaxing waterside cafés and interesting architecture. It's also home to a variety of outdoor fun for kids of all ages that includes boating, fishing, kayaking, golf, amusements, the arts, and some of the finest unspoiled beaches in the country.

So plan your trip to the Swansboro area today! And don't forget to take along this handy SACC's 2018 Visitor's, Relocation and Membership Guide for helpful tips along the way. Come...enjoy some Southern Hospitality with a coastal flair. Who knows? You may just make a little history of your own.

WHERE IS SWANSBORO?

Swansboro is conveniently located between Jacksonville, NC, and Morehead City, NC. It's easy to reach by car, air, or boat. Modern and updated highways (NC 24, NC 58, US 70, I 40) breeze you quickly to the coast. If you are traveling by air, two regional airports serve our community: The newly renovated Albert J. Ellis Airport (OAJ) in Richlands, NC, and the Coastal Carolina Regional Airport (EWN) in New Bern, NC. These airports provide regularly scheduled flights to and from the rest of the world.

If you are boating your way to the area, remember that the White Oak River and the Intracoastal Waterway flow right past Swansboro. Transient boaters are always welcome from around the world for day trips, overnight stays and longer visits. Public docks are available, as well as convenient area marinas, offering boating supplies and provisions.

We are point A.

Your easy, convenient connection to the world.

Fly from the new OAJ terminal in nearby Jacksonville.

WHERE'S A GOOD PLACE TO...

You name it...we have it! What's your preference? Bed and breakfast inns? Hotels or motels? Condos? Beach houses? All are located nice and close to where the coastal action is (many with waterfront views included)! Stay for a night, a week, or the entire season. Of course, the danger is...the longer you stay, the harder it is to leave!

STAY?

For more information on area accommodations, review the directory found in the back of this publication or contact the Chamber/Visitor's Center at (910) 326-1174.

Go ahead...

tempt your taste buds at one of the many outstanding restaurants in the area. Whatever you crave... thick steaks... fresh local seafood... juicy burgers... classic Carolina Bar-B-Que... you won't have to drive far! In fact, some are just a short (and scenic) stroll away. Fast-food and family restaurants are as easy to find as fine dining experiences, many with gorgeous waterfront views. Refer to the directory found in the back of this publication for some delectable choices. Your taste buds will thank you!

SHOP?

The area is filled with all kinds of unique shopping opportunities, from quaint boutiques to brand-name stores... from art galleries to antique shops... from consignment stores to mega-big beach stores... and much more! Finding souvenirs for family & friends is easy and fun. But don't forget to claim a keepsake (or two) for yourself. You'll want to remember this vacation!

How is the WEATHER?

If you like to see the seasons change, the Swansboro area offers four distinct seasons. The year-round mild temperatures make outdoor activities enjoyable almost every day of the year.

AREA FISHING

A license is required to fish at the coast. Children under 16 are exempt from a license. The license is available from the Division of Marine Fisheries offices, Wildlife Resources Commission, licensed agents such as bait and tackle shops, ncwildlife.org or (888) 248-6834. Individuals do not need a license for pier fishing or a charter boat as they are covered by a blanket license.

For more information please visit www.ncwildlife.org or www.ncdmf.net.

Don't get caught with too many or ones that are too little... make sure you know the current size and creel limits.

For more information call the NC Division of Marine Fisheries at (252) 726-7021 or (800) 682-2632.

WHAT IS THERE TO DO?

There's something for everyone! If you love the water, splash on over to Hammocks Beach State Park and the beaches of Emerald Isle for swimming, camping, kayaking, fishing, and shell collecting. Boaters, whether they like to fish or not, will love cruisin' up and down the Intracoastal Waterway.

Land lovers can bike, hike, bowl, golf, play tennis, and enjoy yoga on the beach. History buffs can soak up the area's maritime history while visiting local historical attractions.

And just look up...now you're bird watching. Coastal birds are everywhere!

Plus...if you like to shop until you drop...you've come to the right place! Shopping is considered a sport, isn't it?

But if your idea of a good time is a great beach read and a long nap in the afternoon sun, don't worry, we won't tell a soul.

Here are just a few of the many things to do and places to go that are within easy driving distance from the Swansboro area:

Beaches located at Emerald Isle & the Topsail area

Cape Lookout Lighthouse, Down East Carteret County

Core Sound Waterfowl Museum, Down East Carteret County

Croatan Forest Recreation/ Patsy Pond Trail Area, Newport

Fort Macon, Carteret County

Hammocks Beach State Park & Bear Island, Swansboro

ONslow COUNTY

Founded in 1735, Onslow County is one of the oldest and largest coastal counties in North Carolina. Named for the Honorable Arthur Onslow, Speaker of the British House of Commons, Onslow is a diverse county, sporting a landscape of sandy beaches, thick forests, beautiful rivers and historic farmlands.

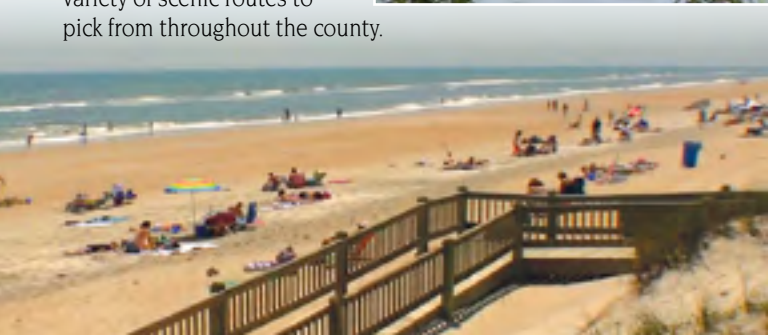

Towns in Onslow County include Swansboro, North Topsail Beach, Holly Ridge, Richlands, portions of Surf City, and Jacksonville. The county is also the home of the United States Marine Corps' largest amphibious training facility, Camp Lejeune. The county's population (186,000+) is dispersed throughout its 762 square mile radius, making it one of the largest counties along the North Carolina coast.

Jacksonville is the county's largest city (approximately 74,000). Travel Hwy 24 East from Jacksonville and in less than a half hour you will be in the county's oldest and largest coastal town...Swansboro.

Onslow County's economy is largely driven by its military presence and supported strongly by both the tourism and healthcare industries. Swansboro's historic district is one of the county's favorite attractions, offering a variety of shops and restaurants along a picturesque waterfront where the White Oak River joins the Intracoastal Waterway.

Outdoor activities abound in Onslow County. Kayakers and boaters can enjoy exploring the White Oak River, the New River, the Intracoastal Waterway and inlets along the North Carolina coast. Freshwater and saltwater fishing, boating, hunting, hiking, and camping are all popular in this coastal county and cyclists have a variety of scenic routes to pick from throughout the county.

For some fun in the sun, try North Topsail Beach (located at the northern end of Topsail Island), Onslow Beach (aboard Camp Lejeune), and Hammocks Beach State Park in Swansboro.

Throughout the county, sports enthusiasts will find organized sports programs for all ages. Soccer is extremely popular along the coast. Soccer facilities developed in recent years, including the Swansboro Soccer Association Complex on Hammocks Beach Road, provide excellent venues for regional soccer tournaments.

Onslow County hosts a number of events and festivals throughout the year, many to celebrate the county's maritime history. Events include; Annual Swansboro Mullet Festival of NC, Swansboro's Arts By The Sea Festival, Sneads Ferry Shrimp Festival of NC, Swansboro Rotary's King Mackerel /Blue Water Tournament, Jacksonville and Swansboro Christmas Flotillas, Oktoberfest, National Night Out, Richlands' Farmer's Day and Holly Ridge's Holly Festival. For additional Onslow County festival information, please visit

MILITARY

Onslow County is home to the United States Marine Corps' largest installation on the east coast, Camp Lejeune. Known as the "Home of Expeditionary Forces in Readiness," the Marine Corps Base houses personnel that are among the nation's first crisis responders throughout the world.

Named in honor of Lt. Gen. John A. Lejeune, the 13th Commandant of the Marine Corps, Camp Lejeune is home to a large active duty, dependant, retired, and civilian employment population.

Camp Lejeune covers 156,000 acres, where approximately 42,000 marines and sailors are stationed. The base provides an annual economic impact of close to $4 billion to the county.

Marine Corps Air Station (MCAS), New River, adjacent to Camp Lejeune, is home to the rotary wing (helicopter) assets of the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing.

Committed to preserving trust.

HUBERT

Hubert is a small but growing community in the eastern part of Onslow County that offers its residents the natural beauty of North Carolina along with convenient business, shopping and tourism opportunities.

Hubert is adjacent to the Intracoastal Waterway and is the home for the largest local North Carolina public boat ramp. Boaters love the ramp's easy access directly into the ICW. Water activities and seafood are a way of life for Hubert residents. There are plenty of ways to enjoy the outdoors including boating, fishing, bird-watching, hiking, and kayaking. Beaches are close by including Emerald Isle, Hammocks Beach State Park, and Onslow Beach aboard Camp Lejeune.

Hubert borders one of the largest United States Marine Corps bases, Camp Lejeune, and thus has an extensive and constantly increasing military population, lured to the area for its convenience to Camp Lejeune's NC Hwy. 172 entrance.

Hubert is located a few miles from Swansboro, NC, where a variety of restaurants, shops and other businesses can be found. Jacksonville and Morehead City are both just a short car ride away.

Sand Ridge Elementary School, an award-winning member of the Onslow County School System, is located in Hubert. Additional schools are located in Swansboro and aboard Camp Lejeune. More information about Hubert is available online at www.hubertnc.com.

SWANSBORO

Once the site of an Algonkian Indian village, Swansboro officially began its maritime history in the mid 1700s, when a prominent landowner, Theophilus Weeks, divided a portion of his coastal plantation into 48 lots with 6 streets, and the colonial port town was born. But it wasn't until 1783 that the town was officially incorporated as Swannsborough, named in honor of North Carolina House of Commons Speaker Samuel Swann.

The spelling of the name has changed, but the quiet town, snugly tucked along the North Carolina coast where the White Oak River meets the Intracoastal Waterway, is still steeped in charm and southern hospitality. From its quaint historic waterfront to its pristine undeveloped beaches, the Swansboro area offers a relaxing yet exciting destination to explore.

Strolling through the streets of the historic downtown waterfront, visitors can envision life as it once was for the port community. Many historic homes and buildings are well preserved and carry national historic designations. Tall shrimp boats mark the horizon, bringing to mind the town's early heritage of ship building and commercial fishing.

Fast forward to present day and most would agree the pace in Swansboro hasn't changed much at all. Relaxed, coastal living is here! In fact, outdoor living is a way of life. Start by taking a tranquil stroll along one of the area's pristine beaches. Bear Island is great for shell collecting! Then, try a seaside adventure...or two. Take your pick from fishing, boating, paddle boarding, surfing, kayaking, camping, hunting, hiking, and biking (just to name a few!)

Because of its convenient location and intriguing maritime history, Swansboro is a popular destination for transient boaters. The town currently offers three docking facilities in the historic downtown area, including the Moore Street Dock, Main Street Dock and the newly constructed Church Street Dock, designed to give overnight boaters with boats measuring 26 feet or larger easy access to the downtown area. Two local marinas (Casper's Marina and Dudley's Marina) are also conveniently located in downtown Swansboro.

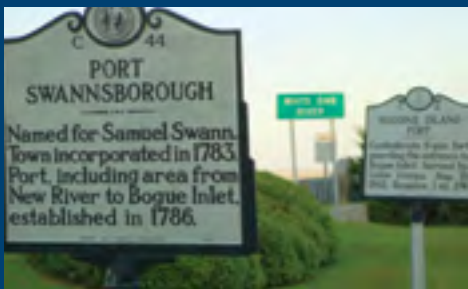

Across the Intracoastal Waterway outdoor enthusiasts will love Hammocks Beach State Park, Swansboro's coastal treasure. The park is home to Bear Island, an undeveloped barrier island that can only be reached by ferry or private boat. This largely undisturbed setting is popular with day trippers, boaters, kayakers, and campers. And it's a great family outing, too!

is certainly an experience that you don't want to miss. Throughout the summer weekly outdoor concerts are a treat for locals and tourists alike in Swansboro's Olde Towne Square Pavilion. Music styles vary each week, so there's always something for everyone. Some are local favorites...some travel many miles to perform. But, all concerts are free and family friendly (no alcohol allowed.)

Swansboro also hosts a wide variety of events throughout the year, including the Annual Swansboro Mullet Festival of North Carolina, celebrating its 64th year. Other popular events are the Arts by the Sea Festival, Derby Day, Military Appreciation Day at Hammocks Beach State Park, Fourth of July Fireworks, Swansboro by Candlelight (holiday shopping), the Christmas Flotilla, and the Swansboro Rotary Oyster Roast. HAMMOCKS BEACH STATE PARK

Venture to Bear Island and reward yourself with vivid memories of one of the most unspoiled beaches on the Atlantic Coast. Accessible only by passenger ferry or private boat, there's just one thing at Hammocks Beach that's crowded, the list of things to do.

Stroll the beach with laughing gulls and sandpipers. Cast a baited hook into endless rows of foaming breakers. Discover tiny specimens of marine life in tidal pools and mudflats. Use a camera or paintbrush to capture the green and gold grasses that color the salt marshes. Spend the night among the sand dunes, or simply bask in the sun and do nothing at all.

Primitive campsites are located near the beach and the inlet. Fourteen family campsites accommodate six people each. Two group campsites, available to affiliated groups only, accommodate a total of 36 people. Light and simple is the way to travel as campers must carry all provisions to the campsites from the beach or ferry dock.

Water and other facilities are available on the island, except from mid-November through mid-March when the facilities are winterized. Fires are not permitted, and campers must remove all trash. Camping is permitted on numbered sites only and permits must be obtained from the park office on the mainland. Reservations are required for group sites. Campsites are open year round.

Secluded and tranquil, free from intruding commercialism, Hammocks Beach may not be for everyone, but the island is a retreat for people who welcome the challenges of sun, sand, sea and sky.

CARTERET COUNTY

Carteret County, established in 1722, represents 1341 square miles (including land and water) of North Carolina's Crystal Coast. With a population of 68,000 (and growing), the salty breeze, quaint towns, and relaxing "beach time" atmosphere attracts visitors from all over the world.

Entertainment for all ages is THE goal at the Crystal Coast.

First things first...kick back...relax! Then, pick from biking, surfing, hiking, swimming, golfing, fishing, boating, water skiing, kayaking, shell collecting, shopping and dining....or just hanging out at the beach with a good book and a smile.

The North Carolina Aquarium at Pine Knoll Shores is a major attraction for Carteret County. The aquarium showcases both the area's maritime and marine history and has year-round exhibits and activities designed to help visitors explore the wonders of Carteret County and the Crystal Coast.

History buffs will appreciate many stops along the NC Crystal Coast. Fort Macon State Park, located at the eastern end of Bogue Banks, is home to one of North Carolina's coastal Civil War forts open for public exploration.

The North Carolina Maritime Museum in Beaufort, NC, is a must-see for those interested in historical shipwrecks along the North Carolina coast, including the shipwreck believed to be Blackbeard's flagship, the Queen Anne's Revenge.

Diving enthusiasts have been coming to North Carolina's Crystal Coast for years. Because of the many shipwrecks, this area of the Atlantic is famous for some of the most acclaimed diving in the world.

Bird lovers will want to tour the Core Sound Waterfowl Museum at Harkers Island, where the tradition of decoy carving by local craftsmen is alive and well. The Core Sound Gallery is open all year round to bring this Core Sound heritage to new generations.

Another of the Crystal Coast's popular treasures is the Cape Lookout National Seashore, a collection of three undeveloped barrier islands, including South Core Banks, the home of the Cape Lookout Lighthouse. Climb the lighthouse...enjoy the remote beaches...observe the wild Shackleford Banks horses...then picnic or even camp in this seaside wilderness accessible only by ferry or boat.

Carteret County's largest city, Morehead City, is one of only two North Carolina state ports. In keeping with its maritime history, Carteret County and Morehead City are home to several marine research facilities. The North Carolina Division of Marine Fisheries is located in Morehead City, along with the Center for Marine Sciences & Technology, a partnership between Carteret Community College and NC State University. UNC's Institute of Marine Sciences and Duke University's Marine Lab also have state-of-the-art research facilities in Carteret County.

CAPE CARTERET

When Cape Carteret first incorporated in 1959, it consisted of a mere 15 residences, one retail store, and a property development office. Fifty-six years later, the town that was once just a vision to founder William Britton McLean has prospered into a vibrant community at the western end of Carteret County, minutes away from Cedar Point, Swansboro, Emerald Isle, Bogue and Peletier, NC.

McLean was instrumental in the inception of Cape Carteret, developing plans for expansion of the quiet, coastal community and then donating the land for the planned expansion. From these early days of incorporation, Cape Carteret has grown to a population of just over 2,000, including many retirees and second home owners.

Water sports are abundantly popular in the area, certainly along the Bogue Sound and the Intracoastal Waterway. Fishing, boating, swimming and kayaking are all popular outdoor activities. Cape Carteret also has its own boat ramp at the end of Manatee St., a less crowded alternative to North Carolina's public boat ramps.

For the land lovers, biking and hiking trails are readily available along the coast and through the Croatan Forest. The new Cape Carteret Trail, a multi-use path, will link area neighborhoods, businesses, schools, and public services with a path that accommodates walkers, runners, cyclists of all skill levels and abilities and will be ADA compliant.

Cape Carteret was one of the first communities in North Carolina to establish a community watch program. The town offers its residents a local library, two local churches, a number of restaurants and a popular area shopping center.

Cape Carteret is also known for a very active Garden Club. The club was established in 1977 and since then has worked on a number of projects throughout the community, introducing “green” gardening and conservation methods to the coast.

CEDAR POINT

Mention Cedar Point, NC, and most locals think of the famous Octagon House that was built in Cedar Point by Edward Hill. With its unique architecture and picturesque setting, it has fascinated visitors and residents alike since 1859. Much has changed since the Hill family owned their plantation, but family values and hard work are still a strong part of this tight knit community.

Cedar Point is known for its small businesses, many of which have been family owned and operated for years. NC Hwy. 24, the “main drag,” is dotted with a wide variety of shops and service businesses. For an area of approximately 1,400+ residents, business is bustling.

Local produce stands are a popular fixture in Cedar Point. Visitors drive from miles around to get what locals might sometimes take for granted: locally grown fruits and vegetables.

One thing none of them ever take for granted... a Bogue Sound watermelon is always well worth the trip to Carteret County. Since these melons can only be successfully grown in land surrounding Bogue Sound, they will continue to be a draw to the area for many years to come.

Chartered in 1988, Cedar Point was named for the cedar trees that lined NC Hwy. 24 for many years. Recent hurricanes have claimed many of these majestic trees but the picturesque views of Bogue Sound, the White Oak River, and the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway still remain.

Exploring the area is easy. Boaters can launch directly into the Intracoastal Waterway via the NC Wildlife Resources Commission Boat Ramp on NC Hwy. 24. Another NC Wildlife Boat Ramp is available at Western Park off Old N.C. 58. Water adventurers can explore the Croatan National Forest using the Saltwater Adventure Trail, the only national forest saltwater trail in the United States. The Croatan National Forest can also be explored using the Cedar Point Trail.

For more information on Cedar Point, NC, visit www.cedarpointnc.org or call (252) 393-7898.

EMERALD ISLE

In 1954, the barrier island of Bogue Banks, now known as Emerald Isle, was purchased by seven developers for $350,000. At the time, this was Carteret County's largest recorded land purchase. Of course, that was considered quite a tidy sum of money by 1950's standards, but most visitors and residents both past and present will agree that those visionary developers got a bargain. Today, Emerald Isle is one of the most popular islands along the North Carolina coast.

Known as a family friendly beach community, Emerald Isle was incorporated in 1957 and boasts a year-round population of approximately 3,800, although during the tourist season that number rises significantly.

Activities on the island include aquatic favorites like swimming, snorkeling, surfing, scuba diving, boating, sailing, kayaking and wind surfing. Fishermen (and ladies) can cast their lines from the famous Bogue Inlet Fishing Pier, surf fish, or boat their way through the Intracoastal Waterway and the Atlantic Ocean in search of THE BIG ONE. (Boaters will enjoy the convenience of Emerald Isle's public boat ramp located just off Hwy. 58.)

In keeping with the town's friendly family atmosphere, Emerald Isle features an extensive 10-foot-wide bicycle path for even more family fun plus a newly constructed Visitor's Center.

Walking the beach, shell collecting, shopping and golfing are other favorite pastimes of the beach life. The island also has a variety of dining options (local seafood being a specialty, of course) to tempt the taste buds.

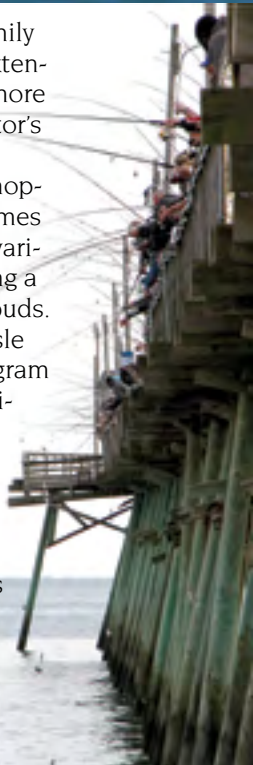

Turtle lovers unite with the Emerald Isle Sea Turtle Protection Program. The program is designed to monitor the nesting activities of the endangered loggerhead sea turtle from May to August and is always looking for volunteers to help in the turtles' amazing nesting and hatching process.

Annual events include the St. Patrick's Day Festival, July 4th fireworks display, and the Christmas Parade.

PELETIER

Peletier, a town of 3.3 miles, has slightly over 500 residents. Founded around 1870 by Jeremiah Jabez Pelletier, the area was originally called Pelletier Mills. In 1905, the postmaster's appointment certificate inexplicably read Peletier instead of Pelletier Mills and the mistake was never corrected. The town became known as Peletier.

Golfers are drawn to Peletier's well-known Silver Creek Golf Club. The golf club features a challenging 18-hole championship layout. Beautiful homes surround the community.

Peletier borders the Croatan National Forest, a coastal forest known for its bogs, salt estuaries, and pine forest. Bird watching is especially popular here. Hiking, camping, and hunting are also fun for residents and visitors. Many water sport enthusiasts embrace the rivers and creeks of the Croatan as a less crowded alternative to the nearby beaches for their favorite pastimes, whether they be swimming, fishing or boating.

BOGUE

Bogue may be one of the smallest towns along the Crystal Coast, but residents and visitors alike will agree that a lot of Bogue Sound's history is packed into this little town.

Incorporated in 1995, Bogue now boasts a population of just over 680 full-time residents. The area borders scenic Bogue Sound, and is only a short 'jump' from Cape Carteret, Emerald Isle, and Swansboro.

Bogue is home to United States Marine Corps Auxiliary Landing Field, or Bogue Field, a training facility used for flight exercises along the coast. The facility was originally opened in 1942 and used for various military purposes, but since 2003, only one landing strip is open for military training exercises.

WEDDINGS & EVENTS

Whether you're planning a wedding, reunion, corporate or military event, you should consider the Swansboro area and its many seaside venues. There's plenty for all to do in this coastal treasure.

The term "traditional wedding" has rapidly taken on new meaning at North Carolina's Crystal Coast. More and more, brides are opting for a walk through the dunes of a pristine beach instead of the traditional walk down the aisle. For beach loving couples, there could be no other option!

And it's not as difficult to plan as you think! Like any wedding, it just takes some thought and organization...and a little help from the experts. Those planning destination weddings will find the area filled with helpful vendors knowledgeable with the latest wedding trends.

Wedding and event planners, florists, jewelers, bridal shops, bed and breakfast/inns, hotels, rental agencies, event rental companies, party supply stores, caterers and a wide variety of restaurants...the Crystal Coast has it all. Many of these businesses provide more than one service, if not the complete wedding package.

Every bride aspires to make her wedding her own with personal touches and unique ideas. Beach weddings offer a variety of ways to make a memorable day, whether the wedding is "barefoot bride" casual or a bit more elegant. (Who says you can't combine a love of the ocean with sophisticated tastes?) Plus, picking wedding colors is never a problem at the coast. After all, every color goes with gorgeous water, a blue sky and sparkling sand, right?

So, set the date and start planning your special event. You and your guests will be talking about it for years to come!
